

JOHN J. HEALY.
Attorney For Investigating
Committee In Lumber Case.

LUMBERMEN INDICTED.

Secretaries of 14 Associations Charged With Conspiracy.

The secretaries of fourteen retail lumber dealers' associations comprising the lumber secretaries' bureau of information, and representing dealers' organizations from Pennsylvania to the Pacific, were indicted by a special United States grand jury at Chicago for alleged violation of the Sherman antitrust act. Three secretaries of the organization received immunity for testifying before the grand jury.

Each indictment is in two counts. The first charges conspiracy among the retail lumber dealers to interfere with and restrain trade between the manufacturers and wholesalers and the consumers. The second count charges a conspiracy to suppress and eliminate the competition that should exist between the wholesalers and the retailers and the consumers.

GEORGIA EDITOR

Pleasant Stovall, Of Savannah
Now In The Race
EDITOR OF SAVANNAH PRESS

With This New Richmond In The Race
Has Assumed Additional Interest.
Much Speculation as to Issue.

With the practical entry into the race for the United States senatorship of Pleasant A. Stovall, of Savannah, editor of The Savannah Press, new interest is lent to the situation.

The campaign, in fact, begins to take on life.

In exhibiting caliber qualities approaching white heat.

That Mr. Stovall is a candidate is assumed by the following statement furnished to the press Saturday by his friends:

"Friends of Pleasant A. Stovall, of Savannah, say that he will enter the senatorial race and allow the use of his name before the general assembly. Mr. Stovall has been considering the matter for some time, and those who have seen him the past week believe that he will be nominated when names are called for the vote for United States senator to fill the unexpired term of the late Senator A. S. Clay. Mr. Stovall will be in Atlanta Monday and his friends will be with him at the Kimball House when the legislature opens this week."

This definite announcement from the friends of Mr. Stovall that he would be in the race, has stirred things up some.

In fact, it has aroused an intense interest in the situation, and the senatorial fight is now almost the exclusive political talk in the hotel hotels.

Mr. Stovall is a member of the state executive committee, and one of the few members of that organization who have stood persistently for a primary election for United States senator.

He has always, heretofore, been lined up with the Hoke Smith faction and supported Mr. Smith in the last two elections for governor.

To Celebrate Fourth.

The Patriotic Order Sons of America of Key West, will, according to their usual custom, celebrate the glorious fourth this year on a grand scale. The celebration committee is hard at work making preparations for the event, and the celebration will excel the one held last year. Among the many interesting features of the day will be a grand parade in which all the secret societies of the city, the naval militia, the Key West Guards, the city fire department, city and court officials and the Cuban Cadets will take part. Many of the leading business houses will also have extensive floats in the parade.

SECRETS OF THE MAIN

Chief of Engineers Bixby Says Cause of Explosion Will Never Be Known.

The secret of the destruction of the battleship Maine will never be known, said Gen. W. H. Bixby, chief of engineers in charge of the work of raising the Maine, on his arrival at Tampa, Fla., from Havana.

"The destruction to the vessel was such," says General Bixby, "and the effort has been so great that it will be impossible to tell whether the ship was blown up from a force from the outside or inside. The greatest force, however, was from the inside, indicating that the forward magazine had exploded. Whether this was from a sympathetic explosion caused by a torpedo from the outside may forever remain a mystery."

General Bixby says that unless the fragment of a torpedo is found there is no way of connecting some outside agency with the blowing up of the vessel.

STOCK YARDS BURN.

Dig Plants Crumble In Ashes and Loss Estimated at $750,000.

Fire, caused by the extreme southeast corner of the big sheds when the flames were but little larger than the hand of a clock, spread through the Fort Worth stock yards for three hours Sunday afternoon and despite the efforts of the fire companies from the Swift and Armour packing plants on a half dozen companies of the city department and hundreds of volunteers, destroyed 27 acres of pens, three scalchouses, two stockmats and feed barns, the building docks, viaduct driveway to the packing house, and the yardmaster's office.

Manager King, of the stock yard company, estimates the loss at approximately $750,000.

The entire loss is fully covered by insurance.

W. S. McGuffin Runs Amuck
And Creates Reign Of Terror

TRAGEDY AT ANNISTON, ALA.

McGuffin Seriously Wounded Before Being Captured—McGuffin Is Heavily Guarded, as There Are Fears Attempt Will Be Made to Lynch Him.

Policeman John L. Cunningham lies dead with a bullet through his brain; Police Chief Nathan Glossen is seriously wounded in the hip; Officer James Oakwood is shot through the wrist and W. S. McGuffin, a pipe moulder, charged with having killed the one and wounding the two officers, himself in a critical condition from a bullet fired by an unidentified member of the posse which arrested him, now lie dead in the county jail, having been removed there from the hospital when matters of a lynching grew to serious proportions on the streets.

McGuffin is said to have been drinking during the afternoon and about 4 o'clock he left his house near the Union foundry and, stopping at "Tip-lett Bros," commissary nearby, became involved in an argument with one of the proprietors, threatening his whole family with death.

A call for the police brought Chief Glossen, accompanied by the sheriff, McGuffin resisted arrest, firing five shots as soon as the officers had entered the store, first striking the chief in the belt, the bullet glancing off, but his next shot took effect in the hip. He then leaped for the door and ran toward an automobile in which the officers had come to the scene.

By this time four other policemen arrived, and with a number of men and boys, rushed for the fleeing man, who turned and quickly emptied his pistol into the crowd, the first bullet bowling over Cunningham, killing him instantly, and the second disabling Oakwood.

Having reached the automobile, ready cranked, the man leaped in and was on the point of starting, when an unidentified man leaped forward and fired both barrels of a shotgun full into his breast. The crowd believed McGuffin had been killed and quickly dispersed, while the officers took the injured man to the hospital for attention.

SAVE WIVES; THEN PERISH.

Tragic Fate of Walter Hahn and H. B. Chickester—Government Employees Drowned before the Eyes of their Wives, who were Helpless to save them, was the tragic fate of Walter L. Hahn, of Springfield, S. D., and H. B. Chickester, of Eagle Pass, Texas, government fisheries agents in Alaska, whose deaths were reported May 31. Details of the disaster were received by Fish Commissioner Bowers, at Washington, D. C.

Chickester and Hahn took their wives out for a sail from St. Paul Island, Alaska. Their boat capsized in a squall. After heroic efforts, the two men succeeded in reaching their wives and placed them exhausted on the bottom of the overturned boat. They found the boat sank with their own weight, and were compelled to hang to the sides.

Weakened by their efforts in saving the women, the strenuous men gave way, and two almost lifeless wives were helpless to save them. First one, and then the other, sank beneath the city and nearby towns are continuing to bite bitterly of the red bodies that are literally overrunning residences.

Searchers later found the two bodies of the fisheries agents, and accompanied by the two widows, they will arrive at San Francisco about July 14 on the fisheries steamer Homer.

Women!

If weak, you need Cardui, the woman's tonic. Cardui is made from gentle herbs, acts in a natural manner, and has no bad results, as some of the strong drugs sometimes used. As a medicine—a tonic—for weak, tired, worn-out women, Cardui has been a popular success for over 50 years.

Take CARDUI

The Woman's Tonic

Mrs. Lula Walden, of Granlin, S. C., followed this advice. Read her letter: "I was so weak, when I first began to take Cardui, that it tired me to walk just a little. Now, I can do all the general housework, for a family of 9." Try Cardui for your troubles. It may be the very remedy you need.
